WHAT IS THE CHARTERED FINANCIAL ANALYST (CFA) DESIGNATION?

First awarded in 1963, the CFA charter has become known as the gold standard of professional credentials within the global investment community. Employers and investors recognize the CFA designation as the definitive standard for measuring competence and integrity in the fields of portfolio management and investment analysis. The CFA Program is comprised of 3 levels - each culminating in an exam. One must pass each level sequentially and fulfill other requirements of the program before earning the right to use the CFA designation.
